SHARE Forum's spirit

The SHARE Forum's spirit resides in the idea of connecting people through architecture, sharing concepts and initiatives in Central and Eastern Europe to bring architecture to a more social sensitive level.

'Arch. Ian Ritchie - from Ian Ritchie Architects and SHARE Society Fellow sees SHARE as "an intellectual, emotional exchange of creative people" while Sir Philippe Samyn - founding partner of Samyn and Partners / SHARE Society Fellow endorses the same idea of a "long awaited" established architecture network which has "an intellectual purity, an intellectual freshness" and which does not take into account the age of participants but concentrates its attention to spreading the knowledge.

"I must say that SHARE conferences are a fantastic idea. It must have been discovered because our countries, the countries of Central Europe, really needed a place where they can meet, needed to go to these capitals, such as Sofia, Warsaw, Athens, etc. It is a great chance to meet each other, to speak about architecture, about the architecture of these countries which for years were put aside - the countries in which the economy is now growing, so the architecture becomes more and more of an important issue in the economy and its development.

I really appreciate this idea and the efforts that were put towards organizing SHARE Architects." - Krzysztof Ingarden, Ingarden & Ewý Architekci, Poland

"In nine hours, including lunch, one had the feeling of having attended a fully-fledged congress. A real feat. Talks, round tables, break-out sessions, interviews (even on stage!) all spread out across the meticulously prepared programme, added up to a most impressive array of complementary contributions that advanced our architectural and environmental thinking one step further. From the UK and the Netherlands all the way to Iran, representatives from nine participating countries from the western - but not only - world made up a kaleidoscope of different approaches focused on common issues. SHARE Architects has succeeded in establishing a new style of architectural event. Built around a topic of present-day relevance, and in a single day, these SHARE events have answered a real need. Organised with strict adherence to the time frames set in the programme, and seconded by relevant publications, they exude professionalism. The one-on-one coffee-time and lunch-time interviews all added up to a singular event. More of the same was the pervading feeling at the end. Do it again SHARE Architects." - Vassilis Sgoutas, Honorary UIA President

"I'd like to express my gratitude to the organizers for giving me the opportunity to attend the 2022 SHARE Tirana event, and I'd like to express my delight at meeting so many regional players in the architectural and construction market, giving me the opportunity to meet and communicate with potential clients, partners, and stakeholders." My team and I have begun to plan our next steps in opening up new channels of communication and, why not, new business since returning home and sharing the information I gathered during the event. As I indicated in my presentation, I'm hoping to be able to report on our success from this event next year."
